JAMES VICTORY OF SURPRISING SIZE

Both Parties To Seek To Restore Harmony—Democrats Face Biggest Task

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Pennsylvania's rough-house primary featuring bitter quarrels in both parties, resulted today in the Democrats rebuffing a CIO attempt to muscle into power, and the Republicans restoring leadership to the conservative, old guard wing of the party.

On the basis of unofficial but fairly complete returns, it appeared the results were these:

The Democratic state organization succeeded in nominating Charles A. Jones, Pittsburgh lawyer, for governor, over Thomas Kennedy, the John L. Lewis-Joe Guffey candidate, who was given the last-minute blessing of National Chairman James A. Farley. The margin of Jones' victory, however, was not too comfortable.

Gov. George H. Earle easily won the Democratic senatorial nomination from Mayor S. Davis Wilson of Philadelphia.

Judge Arthur H. James, candidate of the Philadelphia old guard, overwhelmingly defeated Ex-Gov. Gifford Pinchot for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Senator James J. Davis, a member of the Harding, Coolidge and Hoover cabinets, eased out a re-nomination over the Republican leaders' candidate, G. Mason O'Leary, national committeeman and leader in the legislature.

Pinchot Concedes Early

Earle's victory on the Democratic side and James' on the Republican side were by wide margins, but the others were much closer. Up to daybreak this morning no one except Pinchot had done any conceding. The veteran Bull Moose tossed in the sponge early after the efficient Pew-Grundy-Cooke organization in Philadelphia had sent Judge James westward toward the Alleghenies with a majority in excess of 210,000.

With Pinchot it was a case of the pitcher that went to the well once too often. At 72 he was seeking a (Continued On Page Two)

The American tennis star has been living in a fashionable Belgrave Square apartment house where Captain Cazale resides with his sister Thelma, also a member of parliament.

Wilson Ready For Air Mail Flight

County Cargo Will Be In Private Plane Leaving Airport Thursday

TAKE-OFF SET FOR 3 IN AFTERNOON

At the stroke of 3 Thursday afternoon a plane will sail up from New Castle airport at Parkview Corners and head out toward the east and New Castle's special National Air Mail Week "air mail flight" will be under way.

Pilot Findley Wilson, at the controls, will steer his ship straight toward the Butler-Pittsburgh airport, just outside of Butler. There he is to turn over his local cargo to an authorized air mail representative of the post office department.

Wilson, one of the New Castle district's better known private pilots, was chosen by the government to carry the mail several weeks ago. He took an oath from Postmaster Richard A. Stoen for his role in the government service for the period he is carrying the mail.

Postmaster Stoen indicated today that Mayor Charles E. McGrath and other city officials may be at the airport as Wilson's plane takes off.

Steen estimates that "about 175 pounds of air mail" will be in the cargo Wilson will carry. He said it will come to the local office from other county post offices and be sent on its way from here. From Butler the cargo goes to Pittsburgh and then to its destination.

Postmaster Stoen urged residents to have all letters intended for the special flight deposited at the post office by tomorrow noon.

Similar flights are being sponsored the nation over.

Allegheny county also gave its native son, Jones, of suburban Edgeworth, an impressive vote. He ran almost two to one over Lieut. Gov. Thomas Kennedy, who headed the slate backed by John L. Lewis, blessed by National Chairman James A. Farley and aided by Guffey.

By EVERETT C. GERRY

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—Regular organization candidates of both Republican and Democratic tickets today scored crushing defeats over their rivals in the primary election in Philadelphia.

On the basis of virtually complete but unofficial returns, Superior Court Judge Arthur H. James, one-time Lawrence county broker, boy and the Philadelphia organization candidate, overwhelmed former Governor Gifford Pinchot for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. James' plurality here was approximately 200,000.

Despite the defeat administered him in state-wide balloting, State Senator G. Mason O'Leary, backed by the C. I. O. and headed, ran 3-2 ahead of U. S. Senator James J. Davis in this city for the U. S. senate nomination on the Republican ticket. O'Leary's plurality over Davis topped 60,000 here.

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—Defeated a second time in his quest for the governorship, former attorney general Charles J. Margiotti will enter the Allegheny General hospital today for an operation for an injured knee.

Margiotti, whose charges kept the campaign at intense heat, bumped the knee boarding a train in Philadelphia several days ago. He underwent an X-ray examination at the hospital and surgeons prescribed an operation when several ligaments were found torn. For the past several days Margiotti has been limping around the state with his knee in a specially designed brace.

The former attorney general declined to comment on the results of the campaign until he has made a study of the complete figures.

Two of the four women aboard the new transport plane that disappeared shortly after leaving Burbank, Cal. for St. Paul, Minn. are pictured here. They are Mrs. Carl Squier, top of North Hollywood, Cal. wife of the vice president of the Lockheed Corp. and Miss Lola Tolley of Burbank, a Lockheed aeronautical employee. Besides the two other women the plane carried two children and three men, all airline officials.

Only meagre reports were received by the sheriff's office in Los Angeles, which has been active in the search, told of the plane's discovery. A farmer by the name of Peterson reported to the sheriff that he had spotted the plane lying in the upper reaches of desolate Mint Canyon, about 60 miles northeast of Los Angeles.

His report was later verified, the sheriff's office said, by a group of forest fire patrolmen.

Election Boards Are Commended

Cooperate Splendidly With The News On Tuesday Night Election Returns

Voters of the city and county who were interested in the election returns of Tuesday night, May 17, owe the elections boards of the 100 precincts a hearty vote of thanks for their fine work in reporting the returns and acting for the people as a whole. The News extends such a vote now.

Without any question it was the finest piece of work done by the boards in years. Not only were they prompt in getting their returns to the count house but they kept The News informed promptly as they got the returns for the various offices.

The News asked for co-operation and got it in a splendid way. Because the boards made their returns early the voters got the returns early.

Arthur Mometer

It's over now and the votes are in and the victors are wearing a smug grin, and they are entitled to it. And the losers just what they missed, were hands enough shaken or what was missed and wonder just why they blew it. But the people answered and had their fill, and the winning candidate had their fill of the votes they were out to get, and there's still another scrap coming on, the primary battle is only gone and there's another right yet. So forget the pains of your fellow lost, forget the worry, forget the cost, the people have had their say, and right or wrong that's the way it will be, it has to suit you and it has to suit me, and it's sixty-seven today torney, easily outdistanced Llewellyn, Gov. Thomas Kennedy, his chief rival for the gubernatorial nomination.

JAMES IS GIVEN HUGE VOTE IN PHILADELPHIA

Former Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, independent candidate for the gubernatorial nomination on the Democratic ticket, whose campaign charges were made the basis of a proposed investigation of Karcie leaders, ran a poor third.

Complete unofficial returns from the city's 51 wards of 1,300 precincts clearly showed the major victory scored by the two organization machines.

City Returns

For Republican nomination for governor: James, 266,119; Pinchot, 52,370.

For Republican nomination for U. S. senator: O'Leary, 174,934; Davis, 112,821.

For Democratic nomination for governor: Jones, 139,887; Kennedy, 76,638; Margiotti, 34,950.

For the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator: Earle, 167,529; Wilson, 53,749; McCloskey, 14,570.

The Democratic organization candidates polled up impressive majorities, with Jones trailing his running mate, Earle, Dr. Leo C. Munger for lieutenant governor, and Secretary of Internal Affairs Thomas A. Logue, to succeed himself.

Unofficial returns gave Dr. Mundy 142,894 votes to 33,756 for his nearest rival, Judge Ralph H. Smith of Pittsburgh, while Logue obtained 147,311 votes to succeed himself, and Mrs. Edith B. Dewitt received 30,091.

Judge James appeared to have won all but three Philadelphia wards from Pinchot, whereas Senator Davis was credited with capturing six wards, with two to be heard from. In the wards where leaders had deserted to Pinchot, Davis was given substantial support.

Lewis Gets Big Vote

Samuel S. Lewis, of York, supported by the Republican old guard led former State Senator Frank J. Harris, of Allegheny county, for lieutenant governor nomination on the G. O. P. ticket. Lewis had 201,168 against 50,304 for Harris. William S. Levensong, Jr., Somerset county official, polled 186,446 votes, against 41,220 for Col. Benjamin C. Jones, Tyrone publisher, for secretary of internal affairs.

Margiotti, fired by Gov. Earle from the attorney generalship after charging that brewers' representatives paid $30,000 to three Democrats to steal the 1936 election, polled 34,950 in South Philadelphia, but his support in other neighborhoods was negligible.

The veteran Pinchot conceded defeat early when it became apparent his opponent had rolled up a smashing triumph. Two Republican ward leaders who turned in for the forester at the last minute were unable to stem the tide, and four other G. O. P. leaders who had previously announced for him failed to deliver. Registration difficulties deprived an estimated 25,000 voters of their franchise in this metropolitan area because of changes of address or party affiliation were not recorded in the voting lists.

which the Allegheny county organization rallied to Lawrence's side and for the failure of the CIO unions to show the things which were expected from them.

Likewise, Judge Arthur H. James in winning the Republican gubernatorial nomination, upset the application in Allegheny county, in defeating former Gov. Gifford Pinchot, he upset all predictions. Pinchot, trailed for a time, finally gathered strength, chiefly in McKeesport, moved into a slight lead and then came to a standstill with James in the city proper.

Allegheny county had been considered one of Pinchot's strongholds but it failed him. Before midnight, Pinchot had conceded defeat. P. S. Stahnecker, his campaign manager, estimated James majorities at 173,000 in Philadelphia, 40,000 in Montgomery and about 25,000 each in Lancaster and Delaware counties.

STATE PRIMARY RESULTS PRESENT PARTY PROBLEMS

third term as governor, which no one has ever attained in Pennsylvania.

It now becomes the task of both parties to try to heal up the wounds of this unprecedented primary fight, and in this the Democrats face infinitely the more difficult job. The Republican fight was warm, but the Democratic battle was red-hot, with the opposing factions throwing around charges of high crimes and misdemeanors, to say nothing of graft, bribery and corruption.

Farley to Seek Peace

It was reported today that Chairman Farley will shortly endeavor to arrange a harmony meeting to try to get them all back under the same tent again for November. He will have to wait a time, however, for tempers to cool. They are that hot now.

Farley emerges from his unusual excursion into a Democratic family row with his prestige as a master-mind somewhat dimmed, but with the satisfaction of the hope, at least, of having retained for the Democratic party the allegiance of John L. Lewis and his CIO. That may be an important factor, looking ahead to the upcoming November elections and still further ahead to 1940.

At that, Farley emerged with a fifteen-day split. He ended Farley for the Senate and Kennedy for the governorship as an eleven-hour harmony move. He won with Earle and he didn't lose so much with Kennedy.

Indeed, had it not been for the instant candidacy of ex-Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, the "bad boy" of Pennsylvania Democracy, Kennedy might have squeezed in. P. S. Stahnecker, who made accusations of graft and corruption in both parties in the large number of wards he carried, had to be put in the background, and Kennedy's victory was made much easier.

CIO Turned Back

The CIO's last major thrust for political domination in a large state was turned back. Kennedy's defeat, but it was by no means decisive in the process. Nobody named Kennedy in the campaign, and with about 75 per cent of the vote indicated the machine was still about 500 behind the winner.

As a result, the CIO split wide open and with the P. D. and the state Democratic organization as a result. Under the circumstances it was regarded as a rather creditable showing, especially when Margiotti's anti-organization vote was considered.

Graft and corruption, as Senator John Gifford, who has long headed the vote of Pennsylvania's No. 1 Democrat, returned to Warren, Pa., last week, said, "I don't see how it could be any other way."

He said he would not be deterred by the CIO's defeat of his party to get a reputation that does not exist. Kennedy would not have won 125,000 votes had it not been for the CIO's vote, which was a result of this primary, but it would appear that Gifford's charged that Kennedy's victory was in due season notwithstanding that he said and does not expect to see any of the CIO's party in the state legislature next year.

Republicans Seek Harmony

The Republicans lost no time in trying to patch up their quarrel. Pinchot acknowledged defeat soon after midnight and sent a telegram of congratulation to James. In his campaign speech he had said he would support the Republican nominee in November, declared Judge James, promptly declared war on the New Deal and replied to Pinchot that coming November he expected him (Pinchot) to be in our corner.

"We asked for a landslide and we got it," said the Republican winner. "It is a great victory for the twin forces of democracy and Americanism."

This vote is the handwriting on the wall for the New Deal in Pennsylvania.

"And now I have all those fine men and women of our party who supported Gifford Pinchot in this primary to him with those loyal and diligent supporters to whom I owe such a debt of gratitude for their hard work and encouragement, in consolidating our forces for a successful November drive against the New Deal."

No comparable telegrams had been exchanged between the embittered Democrats up to a late hour this morning.

Democrats Face Problems

In terms of November, some time necessarily must elapse before there is a realignment of Democratic forces. At the moment, it is difficult to see how the CIO can support Earle for senator in this fall, in view of Earle's personal denunciation of Lewis during the campaign. More logically, Lewis could support Davis, the Republican. As for the Democratic primary and Davis in the Republican, Judge James, the Republican nominee for governor, has some slight claim to labor support on the ground he is the son of a miner.

The really stunning surprise of the primary was the magnitude of Pinchot's defeat.

Japanese Claim Walls Of Suchow Have Been Reached

Artillery Hits Crumble Wall

Report Chinese Troops Are Retreating Is Contradicted By Chinese

BITTER FIGHTING IS IN PROGRESS

(International News Service) SHANGHAI, May 18.—Battered by a terrific artillery bombardment, the walls of Suchow, strategic Lunghai railroad junction city on China's central front, have been breached. Japanese authorities claimed today. The western walls of the city, it was said, were pounded to pieces by direct hits scored by artillery units which maintained unceasing fire from nearby Fawangshan for more than 24 hours.

Chinese Retreat
Chinese troops were retreating from Suchow, apparently leaving the city to the mercy of the attacking Japanese, the Japanese authorities said.

Reports from Hankow said three American Catholic missionaries were known to be inside Suchow. Anxiety also was felt for the safety of four American doctors attached to a Protestant mission situated near the southern approaches of Suchow.

Chinese officials, contradicting Japanese statements that the Chinese were retreating, declared bitter fighting was in progress for possession of Suchow and throughout the entire Lunghai railroad zone.

Losses Heavy
It was admitted, however, that the Chinese losses were heavy and that the death toll was known to include General Li Pi-Fan, commander of the Honan division, and General Chow-Yuan, deputy commander of the Kwangsi division.

Amid this welter of conflicting reports came a dispatch from Tokyo saying that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek apparently had ordered his best Chinese troops from Suchow and that they were holding a new battle line between Kweichow and Chengchow.

Tokyo, May 18.—Amid heavy fighting, Japanese forces have captured a "corner" of the city of Suchow, 40 miles south of the Lunghai railway junction city of Suchow, military authorities here claimed today.

Nipponese planes bombed Chinese troops retreating from Suchow, it was stated, and raided the north and south stations there.

Ready For County School Day Friday

Many Of County Schools Will Cooperate In Outdoor Event On Friday

Everything is now in readiness for the County School day to be held on Friday at Idora Park. According to Jay G. Rudolph, chairman of the arrangements committee, nearly every school in the county is cooperating in this event and it is expected that 1,500 students will attend.

A special train for the students is being run to Youngstown. Rudolph stressed today the safety features of the train travel over making the trip to the Ohio city in automobiles.

After arriving in Youngstown on the train, buses will be provided, at no extra cost, to transport the students to the park. The special train is scheduled to leave the east side station of the P. & L. E. railroad at 9 o'clock Friday morning.

Returning, the train will leave Youngstown at 5 o'clock. Tickets may be purchased at the train or from any principal prior to the trip. Sports, a parade, free dancing in the afternoon and free swimming are being provided by the park for the students.

Those on the local committee include: Jay G. Rudolph, Union high school; Roy P. Conway, assistant county superintendent; Glenn Johnson, Shenango high school; P. L. Vannum, West Pittsburg school; and Mrs. Rita Miller of Hillsville.

"NEVER HAVE I EXPERIENCED SUCH A Thrill FROM DRIVING"

Keep in mind two things about the Lincoln-Zephyr:

1. It is a truly different car.

2. Never has any car had more enthusiastic owners!

As to point one, consider the V-12 engine, the unique bridge-type body construction in closed types, the economy record of 14 to 18 miles per gallon, the safety and comfort, and the medium price.

As to point two, consider this letter: "I have owned and driven several makes of cars, but never before have I experienced such a thrill from driving. In my opinion, the Lincoln-Zephyr more nearly approaches the ideal car than anything I have ever owned."

UNDER ADVISEMENT

Mayor Charles E. McGrath Tuesday inquired into the shooting of a dog owned by Robert M. Howe at Winter and Delaware avenues. The dog was shot between 1 a. m. and 2 a. m. Monday. Mayor McGrath said the police did not violate any law because dogs shall not run free at night. A quarantine also exists. However, he said the only question involved was the judgment of the shooting of the dog at that hour. He has taken the case under advisement.

Methodists Of District Talk Over Business

Ministers Have District Conference At Epworth Church Tuesday

LOCAL PREACHERS GIVEN LICENSE

Methodist Episcopal ministers of the Grove City District, who had their district conference Tuesday afternoon and a temperance mass meeting Tuesday evening, again gathered in Epworth church of New Castle this morning for an all day temperance seminar.

All the business of the district was disposed of yesterday afternoon. The district superintendent, Dr. T. E. Colley, presided and delivered an Address of Welcome. Devotions were led by Dr. J. A. Collins, pastor of the Croon Avenue M. E. church.

Perhaps the principal item of business brought before the assembly of nearly 50 clergymen was the consideration of a number of applications for licenses to preach, for renewal of licenses, for ordination and for receipt on trial.

Renew Licenses
Those whose licenses as local preachers were renewed and the names of their churches follow:

F. Raymond Morris of Franklin, C. A. Platt of Grove City, T. C. Henderson of Harrison, H. L. Johnson of New Castle, Simpson J. E. Ramsey of New Wilmington, Thomas Rogers of New Wilmington, Miss Caroline McClelland of Polk, Mrs. Leda Grandy of Sharpshooter, J. E. Hawk of Sharpshooter, H. L. Handland of Shippen Rock, and Irvin Mott of Sherrill.

Those whose churches were passed as ordained local preachers: G. E. Shaffer of Greenwood, Archie Gibson of New Castle, Epworth; S. R. Maitland of New Castle, Epworth; Thomas Francis of New Castle, First; Ansel Fink of New Castle, Indian; J. S. Frantz of Sherrill, First; and A. P. Shaffer of West Philadelphia.

Those who were licensed as local preachers:

Miss Sara Margaret Wallace, member of First church attending school at Greenville; Lawrence Platter of Grove City; Paul James Bowman of Mercer and John Harold Tompkins, Jr. of New Castle, First.

Those recommended for ordination:

H. D. Meier of Branchton, deacon—523.5; and Thomas Rogers of New Wilmington (deacon—523.5). Those recommended for reception on trial in the annual conference: H. C. Brady of Boyers and Thomas Rogers of New Wilmington.

Those whose exhorters' licenses were renewed:

Walter Gilliland of Grove City, Emerson Miles of Grove City, Robert Arrow, Sr., of Nazareth, and R. L. Rice of Sharon, Oakland.

The proper quarterly conference recommendations had been made in all the cases.

Rev. Charles H. Hagadorn, pastor of the Midway church, New Castle, was elected temporary clerk for the Grove City District.

Like Group Conferences
Reports were received from the group quarterly conferences and the same plan was endorsed for another year. Rev. C. H. Hagadorn, of the Ida Cribbs Home, spoke briefly of the work at the home.

It was decided that the next district conference will be held at Grove City on October 26 in the form of a church school seminar.

Last night, at the temperance mass meeting, the principal speaker was D. Stewart Patterson, promotion secretary for the Methodist Board, an authority in the field of temperance, prohibition and public morals. Rev. W. V. McLean, of the First church, conducted the devotions assisted by Dr. Collins.

Today the ministers are devoting morning and afternoon to seminar discussion of the temperance problems. Adjournment is scheduled for 3:30 p. m.

Pirates Lose To Boston In Tough Battle

Russ Bauers Allows One Hit, But Loses 1 To 0, Giants Increase Lead

INDIANS WIN ANOTHER GAME

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 18.—Babe Ruth used to have a way all his own of settling any arguments about the lively ball. It didn't matter how the Babe would follow in his raucous, folksy voice, "this who's pitching and who's hitting it that counts."

That usually settled all arguments and chances at the box scores today would indicate the Babe is still right.

There were five major league games yesterday. Two pitchers turned in one-hit performances and—believe it or not, one of them lost his game—on a hurried three-hitter and returned four-hitters.

That would seem to argue the new ball is dead. But wait a minute in the same game in which Paul Derringer held the Phillies to four hits for a 1-0 decision, the Reds pounded three Philly throwers for 22 hits and all used the same ball. From that it would appear that Babe Ruth's home-spun maxim still holds true.

Tough Luck Bauers
Russ Bauers, long right hander of the Pirates, was the unlucky homie who had the dubious distinction of giving one hit and yet losing. The Bros beat him 1-0, on a pass, the lone hit—a single by Garms—and Lloyd Waner's error. Bauers had the misfortune to sack up against Bill Shoffner, the Bros' aged rookie, who had a three-hit shut-off up his sleeve.

Puddin' Bill McGee, distinguished member of Pepper Martin's Mudecat band, was the author of the other one-hitter. He turned in his effort at the expense of the Dodgers whom he beat 2-1. Bill missed baseball's Hall of Fame when Rosen, who earlier in the season had spoiled a no-hitter for Hal Schumacher of the Giants, singled through short for the only hit off the young Cardinal.

The Giants had to travel 12 beats to down the Cubs, 6-5, and increase their lead over the Pirates by six games and over the Cubs by six games.

There was only one game in the American League, the Indians topped the Athletics, 5-1. Whitehill held the A's to four hits and Truesky contributed his fifth homer to the lead in game.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

A note about a local Miss... Betty Vonnick, New Castle's outstanding lady bowler, has added another laurel to her list... this time, she topped the Monessen Ladies Tournament... she smashed down 325 pins in three games... the scores were 183-206 and 136... congratulations my friend.

Baseball briefs... with the nearing of May 23, major league clubs are emptying their rosters to the 23 player limit... the Pirates sent Duke down the river... the Brooklyn Dodgers have released, unconsciously, Wally Heist, pitcher, Heinie Manush, outfielder, and Roy Spencer, a catcher... George Jeffcoat, another chucker got a break, being optioned to the Kansas City Blues in the A. A... Hoyt has been in baseball for 22 years... the Chicago Cubs released Coaker Triplett, Newell Kimball and Bobby Mattick, on option... it took Bob Seeds 12 years to find his batting eye... considered a mediocre hitter throughout his major league career, Seeds, now with the Newark Bears, smashed out seven homers in two days recently... Bob rarely hit 10 in one season... In 1927, the Wayland club of Beaver Dam defeated Eureka, of Jurest, by a count of 178 to 63... In the second inning, the winners blasted across 35 runs.

A bit of this and that in sportsland... Bennett Saylor, automobile race driver, was a school teacher before he decided he wanted a livelihood with a bit more action... Bill Montana, rascally boyerman who did all right in the movies, is now a restaurant owner... they say Lou Gehrig never had a drink of "fire water," with the Jersey City team, does everything like his brother, with the exception of pitching.

Wonder when one of the Chicago Cubs' pitchers is going to throw a ball game... while the baseball world watched the performances of practically every team but the Red Sox, the Brantworths, aided by the pitching of Grove and the hitting of Cronin and Fox, kept on winning and finally hit the top deck.

An interesting contribution... since one of our contributors is so accepted by the Rambling Reporter.

ing a decided hit, we plan featuring our friend occasionally... we refer to the Masked Writer from Ellwood City... we have received quite a few comments about the lad... many persons want to know who he is... all we know is that he hails from Ellwood City and signs himself as the Masked Writer... his latest literary work:

To the Editor of the Column
Rambling Around the Sports World.

Dear Rambler:
With a bowed head it is a badly beaten Masked writer that writes today. So I was wrong again. Well, if I wasn't used to that, I would be downhearted but my shoulders are broad and I can take it. First of all, I wish to thank you for your trouble and to show my appreciation, here are a few sports briefs that maybe you can use in your column. I want to say though in my own defense that I thought that the play that I wrote you about would start from scratch from the time that the runner went back to third seeing as how the outfielder had not touched the ball until said runner got back on the bag. I wonder how many of our sports friends know that 17,400 people saw the inaugural of midge, who racing in New York's Madison Square Garden Bowl in 1936. That Fred Schulte, former Pirate outfielder started out as a pitcher in high school. That the sun glasses worn by the big leaguers are not of a cheap variety but cost in the neighborhood of from $10 to $20. That Joe Di Maggio hit two homers in one inning against the White Sox in 35. That Al Baker, wrestler, used to run a hot dog stand on the west coast. Jimmy Dyke's pet superstition is the figure 3. Grover Wearing, Temple University half-back of eight years back, once threw 32 forwards in a game against Schuylkill College (now Albright) 28 of which were completed. Sall Temple was beaten 10 to 7. In 1922, the Cubs and the Phils put on a batting spree that has never been equaled. The Cubs beating the Phils 26 to 23. There were 51 hits in the game. There were 12 doubles, three triples, three homers and 33 singles. Chicago scored 10 runs in the second inning and 14 in the fourth. Tommy Farr is said to be able to run the 100 yard dash in 10 seconds. Gene Tunney is the only heavyweight champion that was never knocked out. Exactly 12 fans seen the Cincinnati Reds score their season in 1927. And last I wonder how many fans know that "Don" Mundo is to have a try-out with the Cleveland Indians this month.

Your friend,
THE MASKED WRITER.
